FREAK OF NATURE.

A Mountain in Mexico Sinks out of Sight.

[Union.]

We translate the following from La-Union Democrata of San Louis Potosi. Adjacent to the hacienda of Santa Catarina, about twenty leagues to the east of this city, a very remarkable freak of nature occurred, the facts of which we have received from a gentleman who visited the scene. On the seventh the people of the hacienda and vicinity were aroused by a startling noise resembling thunder. Upon assembling to see what was the matter, it was soon discovered that a small mountain in the immediate vicinity had sunk into the earth and that it must have went out of sight like a flash. Our informant, with others, made observations and learned that the aperture thus opened was two hundred metres in length, one hundred and fifty in width, and its depth from one hundred to one hundred and fifty metres. It was with great difficulty the rim of the cavern was approached, as all about there were great yawning black fissures which threatened to open still wider. To miss a step there was danger of finding a grave in the depths beneath. Some stones weighing about two pounds each, was thrown into the cavern and it took from nine to ten seconds before they struck the bottom, their contact with the surface beneath making a great report. After these brief observations the exploring parties retired hurriedly from the scene, as the earth was trembling and shaking as if upon a balance. The location of this strange phenomenon is situated in the tierra caliente (warm region), and "mosquitos and palm trees flourish all about. Whenever any portions of the earth along the rim of the cavern fell into the depths, immense clouds of white dust issued forth. This dust was carried about by the winds and made all the trees in the vicinity perfectly white. Speculation is rife as to whether the mountain sank, owing to the earthquake influences, or was the result of gas explosions. It could not be attributed to the former very well, as no shocks were felt in the neighborhood.

New York bartenders complain that they are compelled to work seventeen hours a day. They may stand it better than many of their customers, however. It is often harder to work on the outside of a bar than on the inside, even though the hours may not be quite so long.

It is a good thing for a Government to be liberal and forgiving after a lively domestic tumult, but France may ascertain that too many wild-eyed communists are getting back from New Caledonia to ensure the perfect tranquility and welfare of Paris.

A single steamer recently brought 1,700,000 bananas from the West Indies to Philadelphia. The proverbial ease with which the banana is masticated commends it to popular favor in the City of Brotherly Love.

The time on the overland trip from this city to New York has been reduced ten hours by the running of fast trains east of Chicago. Now what is needed is a reduction of fare west of Chicago.

Senator Blaine will not be inactive in the pending campaign. During September and October he will make and extended canvass in Ohio, New York and Pennsylvania.
